RICH STRIKES AT RAWHIDE

Kearns Lease Encounters Ore that Goes Up in the Thousands—Big Body of Ore on Royal and Tiger.

"I'm going to Rawhide."
This is the talk in Tonopah; it is heard on the streets, in the offices, in the homes. It is heard beyond Tonopah; it is heard in the East and the West, in the South and the North.
For Rawhide has come to stay, and every report that comes from the camp adds to the interest in it, and increases the production.
The latest report which reached here yesterday was that they had run into a streak on the Kearns lease, assays from which went as high as $47,000 a ton, and that a big body of ore had been struck on the Royal and Tiger claims.
The Kearns lease is on Balloon hill, and was bought by Mr. Kearns from the original holders for $35,000. That showed the confidence of Mr. Kearns in Rawhide, and before he bought the lease, Grutt Brothers had taken $40,000 out of the hole. Since his purchase, Mr. Kearns has blocked out the money he had put in, and this was before the new strike which has just been reported.
The Royal and Tiger claims were conceded to be the greatest group of them all, and on a lease on the Royal, the biggest strike yet made in the camp has been encountered. The control of this group has been sold to Tonopah parties, and the report that it had been purchased by McLaughlin of Fairview is an error.
Contradictory stories of this sort are apt to be heard from the camp from now on, but there is one thing in regard to which there has been no contradiction, and that is the big strikes that have been made in the camp. And there has not yet been found a man who has come from Rawhide who has not declared that the surface showings are the greatest that have ever been seen in this or any other State.

As a matter of fact, every man who comes from there is more enthusiastic than those who came before him, and it is small wonder that everybody is getting excited, and that the universal cry is, on all sides:

"I'm going to Rawhide."
Another strike which was reported last night is a big find in the lease on the Owl claim, from which was taken the rich ore brought in by Mr. Booth, proprietor of the Daily Bonanza. The lease is owned by George Anderson, formerly of this city; J. H. Alexander, J. H. Kissling and Fred Hughes.

The improvements keep pace with the finds in the hills, and there is any amount of building going on all the time. There are two frame hotels in the course of construction. One of these is being put up by Mrs. Belle Deimer and E. E. Burdick, both of Tonopah. The bank building is nearly completed, and on the second floor of this structure rooms are being fitted up for the Regent Club. There are several substantial mercantile houses in the camp, good lodging houses and restaurants, and the conditions generally are far above the average of the mining camp as we know it.

Democrats in House Roast the President

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A resolution referring the President's message to several committees furnished an occasion in the House of Representatives for a number of addresses, mostly by members of the Democratic side. These covered a variety of subjects, but those that attracted especial attention were by Representatives Sheppard of Texas, and Willitt of New York. The former not only made a plea for the restoration of the legend "In God We Trust" on American coins, but discussed the cruise of the American battleship fleet, and referred to possible conflict with Japan. Willitt placed all blame for the recent financial panic on Roosevelt, whom he denounced in severe terms. He charged the President with not being a sensible man, having turned on the gas and not lighting it; with going up and down the country condemning and striking with the big stick the heads of the great industrial interests. He also charges the President as being responsible for the late panic, due, he said, to a lack of sense and lack of due appreciation of the true condition of our nation. Republican policies were attacked by Mr. Hardwick of Georgia, who predicted that the only safety for the party lay in the nomination of Secretary Taft for the presidency.

FIGHT A DUEL TO THE DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—Frank Cochrane and T. R. They went into a private box in the place. After exchanging a few words both drew revolvers and began a duel at close range. Eight shots were fired, six taking effect, each man receiving three bullets in the body. Bell fell to the floor apparently dying, when Cochrane walked out into the saloon where he was disarmed. A moment later he fell over dead. Bell was removed to the Central Emergency hospital in an unconscious condition, where it is believed he will die. It is said the cause of the shooting was a charge made by Cochrane, who was a gambler in Seattle, that Bell had won his wife's affections. Bell had been employed as a chauffeur.

COPPER MAGNATE INDICTED

F. AUGUSTUS HEINZE CHARGED WITH OVER-CERTIFICATION.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Indicted by the Federal Grand Jury for over-certification of checks representing in the aggregate over $400,000, drawn by the firm of Otto Heinze & Co. on the Mercantile National Bank, F. Augustus Heinze, copper magnate and former president of the Mercantile National Bank, surrendered himself to United States Commissioner Shields today and later was released on $50,000 bail. Heinze will be formally arraigned to plead to an indictment before Judge Chatfield in the United States Circuit Court tomorrow. Edward Lauterbach, counsel for Heinze, stated tonight that his client did not wilfully over-certify checks, as he had drawn a check to the credit of Otto Heinze & Co. to the amount of $500,000 which the bookkeeper of the bank possibly failed to enter on the books until the day after the certification of checks in question.
Heinze had been informed quietly that an indictment charging him with over-certification of fifteen checks, all drawn October 14, just before the smash in United Copper, was found by the Federal Grand Jury December 2d, and that his appearance would be required today. Without waiting for the service of a bench warrant, Heinze, in company with counsel, appeared before Commissioner Shields this afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and bail was furnished immediately by a surety company.
